

I Believe in the Holy Spirit: The Resurrection of the Body

Wednesday, March 24th

In giving us faith, the Lord has given us what is most precious in life, that is, the truest and most beautiful reason for living: it is through grace that we have believed in God, that we have known his love with which he wants to save us and to deliver us from evil. Faith is the great gift with which he also gives us eternal life, true life.

Pope Benedict XVI
